

Karate Five students presented surprise appreciation awards to Grandmaster Willie Wilson and Sensei Linda Wilson, Sensei Melbert Lee Jr., and to Instructor Lee Sloan, “Thank You for Your Leadership and Sacrifice” awards went to Grandmaster Wilson and Sensei Linda Wilson; “Thank You for Your Leadership” awards went to Sensei Melbert Lee Jr., Instructor Lee Sloan and Instructor Anston Wilson. “We were surprise and grate for their show of appreciation for the tie we commit to them to learn and grow from the martial arts.” (Note: Instructor Anston Wilson was not present because of his work schedule.)

The “Thank you for Your Leadership and Sacrifice” award presented to Grandmaster Wilson and Sensei Linda Wilson exemplifies that students do not resent hard work, structure and persistence to commit one’s best effort to the disciplines required by the Karate Five Dojo. This reward was very special to Grandmaster Wilson and Sensei Linda Wilson to be surprised and honored from the Karate Five students.

Grandmaster Wilson holding the “Thank You for Your Leadership and Sacrifice” Award from the Karate Five Dojo presented to Grandmaster Wilson and Sensei Linda Wilson. It was a heartwarming surprise from the staff and stu-

Students presented Sensei Melbert Lee Jr. with a “Thank You for Your Leadership” award also. It’s very hard not to appreciate those gifts that come from within the hearts of the dojo who acknowledge your leadership and sacrifices of time.

Sensei Melbert Lee Jr. shown with his “Thank You for Your Leadership” award at the Karate Five Dojo

Instructor Lee Sloan also received a “Thank You for Your Leadership” award from the Karate Five students. It’s at times like this when you are rewarded and appreciated for the hard work involved in molding these young lives.

Pictured above is Instructor Lee Sloan with Karate Five student, Jesse Rodgers, proudly displaying his “Thank You for Your Leadership” award.